Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-8, 34-42, and 57-63, drawn to a composition comprising an alkanoic acid and polyethylene glycol mono stearate, classified in class 562, subclass 400.
- II. Claims 23-33 and 45-56, drawn to a composition comprising an alkanoic acid and enzyme, classified in class 435, subclass 212.
- II. Claims 21, 22, 43, 44, drawn to a method of curling, straightening or maintaining the style of curling or straightening, classified in class 424, subclass 70.2.

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, inventions I and II are directed to compositions comprising different components. Invention I requires an alkanoic acid and polyethylene glycol monostearate, such as a sizing composition glass fibers shown in US 3920313, Example V, while invention II has an alkanoic acid and an enzyme, which is used as growth stimulator for live stocks. See US 5147642, col. 1, lines 18 – 20. These two inventions have different designs, modes of operation, and effects, and are unrelated.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. In the instant case, invention I can be a composition for sizing glass fibers, whereas invention III is directed to a method of styling hair. These inventions have different designs, modes of operation, and effects, and thus are unrelated.

Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case, the process for curling or straightening hair can be practiced with another materially different product, such as wax, as applicant has admitted in specification, p. 1.

These inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification and recognized divergent subject matter. These inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), which would impose undue burden on the examiner. Thus restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Art Unit: 1617

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Gina C. Yu whose telephone number is 571-272-8605. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday, from 7:00AM until 4:30 PM..
